Profile

I am a strategic project and operations manager of over 15 years with experience coordinating cross-functional teams and driving initiatives from concept to actualization. I have a proven track record managing clients, corporate and freelance projects, large teams and complex workflows. After running my own successful small business and freelancing to support other business leaders, I am looking to leverage my talent for working with larger teams to advance bigger initiatives. I care about results AND process—you can count on me to deliver with creativity, clear communication, and collaborative leadership.

Experience

Artist, Small Business Owner + Operator

Elizabeth Noble Studio, <https://elizabethnoble.studio>

2020 - Present

- Built a small business to sell my fine art and reproductions, balancing product creation, sales, marketing, business development, and operations
- Developed a brand, retail website, and marketing strategy
- Designed and launched products, partnering with retailers to sell wholesale reproductions as fine art prints and greeting cards and establishing a subscription service that has been delivering monthly for over 4 years
- Closed over 1500 sales on my website, completed over 30 commissions including large scale, custom oil portraits and a medical illustration portfolio
- Engaged with the public, sharing my art and business in person and online: establishing peer mentor groups, giving workshops, teaching classes, coordinating and hosting art shows, writing e-mail newsletters, blogging, and building an instagram following
